With 4 locations, HELUKABEL is represented in the most important economic regions along the east coast. This includes Shanghai located in the Yangtze delta, the metropolitan area of Beijing as well as the so-called Pearl River delta in the Guangdong province with the special economic zone Shenzhen. This is where more than 30 expert consultants are available for you with advice, of course also in German and English.

In Taicang, HELUKABEL produces cables and wires for the Asian market from a 7,000 m² manufacturing facility. Similar to the plants in Germany, the focus is on high quality, flexible and highly-flexible cables and wires, which are produced in accordance with German, Chinese and international standards and norms. Flexible production cells permit short delivery times.

Based on a comprehensive stock program at different locations, cables, wires and accessories can be called up directly at the location without any time delay. The new HELUKABEL logistics centre in Taicang is also used as a product hub for the entire Asian market and offers significant benefits especially for the processing of large projects that are critical with respect to time and volume.

At the same time, we frequently ship by air and sea freight from Germany. More than 70 cable types, have been documented and approved for a quick and easy movement of goods.
